- “Make a 10-slide ACP deck about Fund II.”
- “Chart this data in the ACP style.”
- “Write a one-page memo for AG1 Batch 4, with our logo.”

Brand architecture

ACP is the firm. ACP invests and operates AG1. AG1 is a residency for global founders. AG1 has its own name and voice. ACP stands behind it.

THE FIRM

Asu Capital Partners

The first light of tomorrow. Clear, calm and a little cool. Japanese first, with English beside it.

THE RESIDENCY

AG1

A home for founders. Shared meals, late nights, people who help each other. Warm and close. English.

The two brands share one typeface and one page ground. ACP is cool, and its type is open. AG1 is warm, and its type is tight.

Logo

Use the logo files as they are. Do not redraw, recolour or stretch them.

Versions

Gradient The default logo. Use it on white and light grounds.

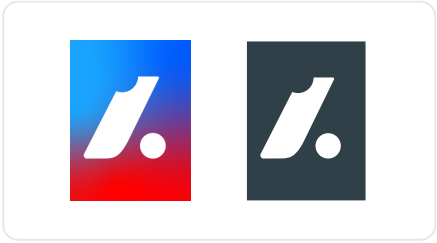

Slate For general use. Use it where colour would distract: website headers, documents, chart footers.

White On solid colour and on calm areas of photographs.

明日資本 For Japanese formal use: LP materials, corporate partners.

Mark The mark can stand alone, in the gradient or in slate. Use it for avatars, merch and small square spaces.

Mark in white On solid colour.

Clear space and minimum size

- Keep clear space on all sides. The clear space is half the height of the logo.
- Logo: minimum 64px wide on screen, 16mm in print.
- Mark: minimum 24px on screen, 8mm in print.
- If there is less space, write “Asu Capital Partners” in text.

Do and don't

● DO
Gradient logo on white.

● DO
Slate logo on a light ground.

● DO
Add a short phrase, such as “Presented by”.

● DON'T
Stretch or rotate the logo.

● DON'T
Use colours other than gradient, slate and white.

● DON'T
Put the logo on a busy image.

● DON'T
Add shadows, outlines or effects.

● DON'T
Make a new lockup from the mark and text.

● DON'T
Crop the logo.

Colour

Our colour is the light of early morning. Most of each page is ground and ink.

Grounds and ink

ACP sky	AG1 sand	Morning	Ink
#E8EDF2	#F0EAE2	#FDF8F4	#1A1A1A

Accents

ACP slate	AG1 navy	Dusk	Night
#304048	#142437	#506D99	#202127

Gradient

Sky #58A2F8 Royal #2A58EF Violet #6C3F92 Red #E5352A

- The gradient comes from the logo.
- Use it on merch, banners, stage backdrops and video end cards.
- Do not use it as a background on web pages or in documents.

Elements

Space

Use space to separate sections. Use thin lines only inside lists.

Corners

8px on ACP. 10px on AG1. About 32px on photographs in 1080px posters.

Photographs

Use real photographs of founders, the residence and Tokyo. Do not use stock or AI images.

Charts

All charts use one template. The title gives the main point. The data is the only strong colour.

Anatomy

- Title: Lora 500, 22px. Write the finding, not the topic.
- Subtitle: Google Sans 13px. Give the measure, the unit and the period.
- Plot: Google Sans 12px. Use horizontal grid lines only.
- Marks: lines 2px. Bars 24px maximum, with 4px round ends.
- Labels: show the last value or the key value only.
- Footer: source on the left, slate logo on the right. Logo width is about 9% of the chart width: 64px minimum, 96px maximum.
- Use one y-axis only. For two units, make two charts.

Colours

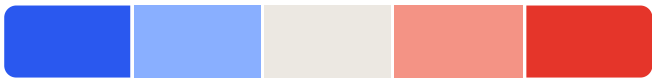

The chart colours come from the logo: blue sky, the sun and the violet between them. Use them in this order.

1 Royal	2 Sun	3 Violet	4 Sky	5 Ochre
#2A58EF	#E5352A	#6C3F92	#2F86D6	#C0621E

Scale For amounts, such as heat maps.

Plus and minus Blue for up, sun for down, grey for zero.

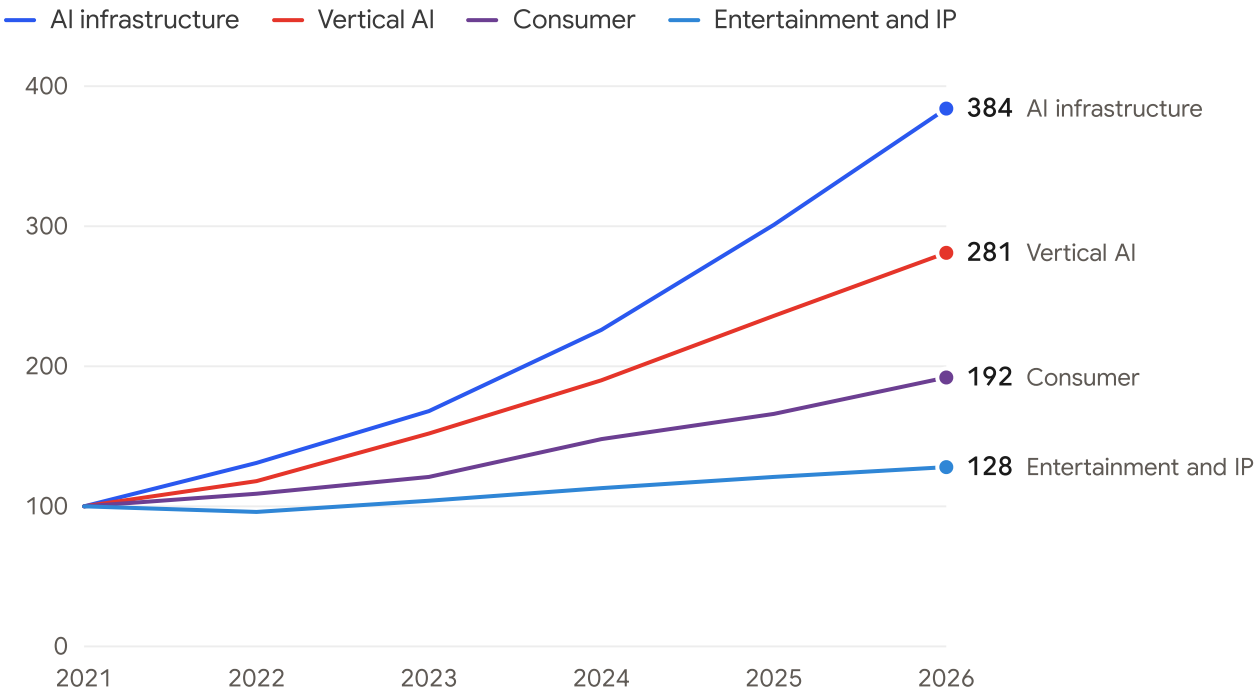

- Use the colours in order. Do not skip a colour.
- One series is always royal.
- Put more than five series in “Other”, in grey #C9C4BC.
- Keep the same colour for the same company in all charts of a document.
- Use ink and grey for text. Do not use series colours for text.
